In keeping with previous efforts to provide current and prospective students and families with information, clarity and time to plan, the California State University (CSU) has announced that it is planning for an anticipated return to delivering courses primarily in-person starting with the fall 2021 term.

Application fee waivers are still available for students who qualify. Fee waivers are available to applicants pursuing their first bachelor's degree and consider CA their permanent home. In addition, to income information, there are several fields used to determine fee waiver eligibility. To view the eligibility criteria, mistakes to avoid and the detailed Application Fee Waiver Checklist please visit: <https://www2.calstate.edu/apply/paying-for-college/Pages/fee-waiver.aspx>. Applicants who qualify are able to apply to up to four campuses without paying any application fees.

Application fee waiver appeals are also still available. If a student's family has experienced a significant change in income between 2019 income, reported on their application, and 2020 they may qualify for an application fee waiver appeal. Fee waiver appeals are handled by the individual CSU campuses. The student would need to contact each campus(es) they are interested in applying. Contact information for campuses can be found at: <https://www2.calstate.edu/apply/Pages/contact-a-campus.aspx>. The fee waiver appeal form is available on the Application Fee Waiver site.
